

Motivational Interviewing Treatment Integrity Code MITI 4.2.1

Denise Ernst, Ph.D.
Theresa B. Moyers, Ph.D.

August 14-15, 2017
Sheraton Uptown
Albuquerque, New Mexico

This dynamic 2-day workshop will:

- 1) Provide the reasons for revising the MITI, including how this changes scores and expectations in treatment and research settings
- 2) Teach you to use the global ratings to evaluate the relational and technical elements of MI
- 3) Teach you to count and evaluate specific behaviors that are desirable and prohibited in MI
- 4) Provide ideas for providing feedback from the MITI for MI learners
- 5) Show you methods for establishing, evaluating and maintaining reliability in coding group

Target Audience

This workshop will be especially useful for those who have previously used the MITI 3 and wish to transition to using the MITI 4. Novice coders (those who have no experience using the MITI) are also appropriate for this workshop.

Included in the Workshop

- 14 hours of expert training with both teaching and experiential components
- Lunch and coffee each day
- 13 hours of CEUs from the New Mexico Counseling and Psychotherapy Board

Held in Beautiful Albuquerque, NM at Sheraton Albuquerque Uptown Hotel
